... Good Neighbor

 chairman of the annual pancake feed, the search for more good neighbors continues.
 There are no box tops to send in, no limericks to write, nor essays to compose. Residents are urged to send their nominations for "A Good Neighbor" to the Editor, Torrance Herald, 1619 Gramercy avenue, or to L. Milton Isbell, YMCA, 2080 Washington avenue, Torrance.
 The purpose of the "Good Neighbor" breakfast is twofold. First the YMCA hopes to encourage a feeling of friendliness and good neighborliness among all the residents of this community. Secondly, the continued operation of the youth organization in Torrance. Food for the pancake feed is donated by local business firms and commercial enterprises. Contributing to the breakfast so far have been: Mayfair Creamery, milk; Mountain States Dairy, butter; Schilling Bros., coffee; Edgemore Farms, eggs; A&P Market, sausage; Teagarden Products, syrup; General Mills, pancake flour; and Union Packing Company, sausage.

A CLASSIFIED AD WILL DO IT

To Open New Library By End of Year

Hopes that the new North Torrance Library, located at 174th street and Yukon, could be opened before the first of the year were expressed this week by Mrs. Dorothy Jamieson, librarian of the Torrance library.
 Elaborating on the report by City Manager George Stevens that the new building was nearly completed, Mrs. Jamieson said the library would be open at least 20 hours a week. She said she is taking applications for librarians there, although the County will have the final word in hiring and certifying the persons for the position.
 City Manager Stevens reported that the painters were putting on the exterior painting this week, and that the interior finishing would be completed in a short time.

Act to Acquire New Site for Narbonne High

Condemnation proceedings to acquire 25 acres of land for a new Narbonne High School site at Western avenue and Lomita boulevard, it was learned this week.
 Announcement of the action was made by the Los Angeles City Board of Education, under whose jurisdiction the Lomita high school has been placed.
 The Board has already acquired 12 acres of the proposed site, but are acting now for the balance of the acreage.
 Funds for the construction of the new school hinge on a proposed $200,000,000 school bond issue.
 The present facilities of Narbonne High School at 253rd street and Walnut would be renamed and used as a junior high school, officials say.
